

University of Pittsburgh Bradford

Where you can go beyond

CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR ACCEPTANCE TO PITT-BRADFORD.

Our campus may not have been your first choice, but we think it will become your only choice, just like it did for all of the students featured here as well as many others who found great success and felt at home on our campus.

“Pitt-Bradford allowed me to grow as a student leader and a person. I love the fact that the faculty and staff want us to succeed.” –Troi Williams

Meet Troi Williams, a public relations major from Bala Cynwyd, PA. Troi has taken advantage of many of the opportunities at Pitt-Bradford, opportunities she may not have had at a larger school.

On campus, Troi was president of the Student Activities Council, a resident advisor and managing editor of The Source, the student newspaper. Off campus, she spent two weeks in Japan, studied in London for a semester, and interned at the Franklin Institute and the Democratic National Convention.

ACADEMICS

You'll be able to choose from 41 majors and more than 50 minors, concentrations and pre-professional programs. And, in each of those programs, you'll be able to go beyond textbooks and classroom lectures to get hands-on experiences, which will prepare you even more for life after college.

- Assist our athletic trainers at local sporting events.
- Solve mock crimes in our CSI House.
- Build your own sensors then program them to measure carbon dioxide in soil.
- Broadcast from WDRQ, the campus radio station.
- Work on the staff or write for our literary magazine, Baily's Beads.
- Create a marketing plan for a local business.
- Help perform environment assessments with area foresters.
- Make your own music video in the TV production lab.

And there's more.

"I love the small class sizes and the chance to talk one on one with professors and staff."

STUDY ABROAD

When we say you can go beyond, we mean it literally. Our students have studied all over the world, from Austria to Japan, from Denmark to Germany. Then, when they returned home they realized they were more confident. They knew more about themselves and the world. They were open to even more possibilities.

Meet Everett Chronowski, a biology major from White Oak, PA. Everett spent a semester in Ecuador, studying the native wildlife and plants. He also learned about ecotourism, which is important to the country and its residents.

CONDUCT RESEARCH

On our campus, you'll have an opportunity to conduct research, sometimes with one of your professors, which usually isn't possible at larger universities. You'll also have the chance to present your findings during our Honors Day event on campus, in publications, or at regional and national undergraduate research conferences.

You can conduct research in many majors, not just the sciences. Our students have researched topics in mathematics, sociology, criminal justice and psychology.

See what other topics students are researching at www.upb.pitt.edu/research.

WORK AS AN INTERN

102 | students who served
as interns in 2016-2017

You can also get great experience as an intern at one of the many local, regional, national or even international locations. Serving as an intern will give you valuable experience and help you make great connections, which will give you an advantage when you graduate.

Meet Dahmir Noel, a sport and recreation management major from Philadelphia, PA. Dahmir is passionate about sports, especially football. His internship with the Big 30 All-Star Charities Classic gave him the opportunity to focus on that passion and help others in need, which he said was a great thing.

See where other students have interned at www.upb.pitt.edu/internships.

Learn more about how our students are going beyond at www.upb.pitt.edu/youcangobeyond.

“The professors are really helpful, and they care about each student.”

– Dahmir Noel

Meet Rosemary Nwabuogu, a biology major from Jefferson Hills, PA. Rosemary spent her summer in the lab, testing the ability of natural oils such as cinnamon, cloves and garlic to inhibit the growth of bacteria on ground chicken and beef.

“I am so blessed to have amazing professors who care about their students’ academic success.”

– Rosemary Nwabuogu

CAMPUS LIFE

We're a safe community

Because we're a close-knit community, we look after each other and take care of each other, almost like a family. Our campus police officers - who are fully trained police officers - patrol our well-lit campus 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, to keep us safe. We also have extensive security measures in place to provide security for all campus buildings, including our residence halls.

Residence life

We want Pitt-Bradford to be your home away from home. No matter which residence hall you live in, you'll find a comfortable place where you can relax and hang out with your friends. All of our halls are fully furnished and wired for cable TV (you'll have 95 channels to surf through) and high-speed internet.

And when your stomach is growling, you'll be able to find something to satisfy your hunger amid all of the choices in our dining room - from pizza and burgers to made-to-order omelets and salads. If there's something you don't see, just ask. Our dining staff wants to make sure you're happy and well fed. They also want you to have a little fun, so they plan theme nights and special events. During an international dinner, they served several dishes, including paella, spicy peanut soup, jerk chicken and pork pot stickers. At an '80s dinner, they made Pac-man cupcakes.

Find out more at www.upb.pitt.edu/residencelife.

Activities

You'll work hard as a college student, but you'll also have time for fun. In fact, you could have something fun to do each day (after you finish studying, of course.) Join one or more of our student clubs and organizations. We have more than 60, including:

- Art Club
- African-American Student Union
- Biology/Chemistry Club
- Fraternities and Sororities
- Gamers United
- Habitat for Humanity
- International Relations Club
- LGBTS Alliance
